Signers for Liquor Licenses. Signers for Liquor Licenses.

Attorney Davis has rendered the following opinion in regard to signers for liquor licenses:

"In the case of Abner's application some years ago for a permit to do business on Estreet opinion." sgo for a permit to do business on Estreet opposite the Postofilee Department, in which a iteense was withheld for a time because of the tefusal of the Postmaster General to give his permission, it is emay to have been assumed that the permission of a majority of each of the two sides was requisite. While 1de not think the language of the act as amended imperatively demands this construction, it seems to be in accordance with the idea of the original act; and as the amendment eviness no clear intention of making a change in this respect, it is, perhaps, in botter accord with the rules of interpretation to hold that the permission of a majority on each of the two confronting sides of the square is requisite.

In the case as to whether a barroom license can be issued for a place in an alley, he says:
"The law does not contemplate the keeping of such a place in an alley, and makes no provision therefor,"
